Hon. Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Sir,

Second Response to Advisory Action Dated Sept 30 2002

Regarding the Advisory Action P.2, section 1, the Examiner states "it is not clear how the computer readable medium being in the form of a data signal embodied in a carrier wave can function to store the recited identity program code". It is respectfully submitted this is one of the most commonly definition used in recent US Software Patents, and the following are shown as example :

United States Patent 6,467,037

Griesemer

Claim:

October 15, 2002

10. A computer program product that executes instructions, comprising:
computer code for maintaining a program counter.....;
computer code for maintaining a data counter.....;
executing the current instruction specified by the program counter;;;
a computer readable medium that stores the computer codes.
11. The computer program product of claim 10, wherein the computer readable medium is selected from the group consisting of CD-ROM, floppy disk, tape, flash memory, system memory, hard drive, and data signal embodied in a carrier wave.

Respectfully submitted,

Ho Keung, Tse.
